Dear Parent/Guardian

Recently, your child has been creating an online profile of their skills as part of their work in my class, Personal Skills Development. This course is a new addition to our S1 curriculum and was designed in response to The Scottish Government's drive towards equipping young people with the ability to identify and develop their skills in order to be better prepared for transitions towards further education or the work place. You may have seen your child's profile if you attended the S1 Parents' Evening last year.

Your child has produced an online portfolio, using Google Sites, of their best work so far in S1, across all subjects, as well as building a profile of their own skills and how they were employed to create these pieces of work.

At the moment this online profile is only available to view by your child and teaching staff. I write to ask if you would like to gain access to your child's work online so that you might keep up to date with what they are doing in classes as well as celebrating the varied and numerous successes that they have encountered so far in their S1 curriculum?

Access to the profile is given via the submission of a valid email address. Therefore, if you would like to be added as a viewer of your child's online profile could you please write your email address in the space below and return this letter to the school office by Friday 1st February. Alternatively use the email address above to notify me of your participation.

Your sincerely,

Grant Mackenzie
 Depute Rector, Head of First Year
